A teenage girl named Chelsea is abducted through a social media app thinking she's going to meet the love of her life in a Halloween costume party. She finally meets him and gets really drunk and feels dizzy and disoriented. When she opens her eyes, she realizes she is held captive with other girls, some diapered and they were killed by a psycho man who was abused by her mom when she was a child because of her little sister. These girls who were about to be killed by virtual murder didn't know anything that was going to happen to them.

This movie's main theme is about teenage girls getting kidnapped by talking to guys through the internet. Therefore, it is interesting to see how that could happen so that it may be avoided in real life.

Fifa 22

This Year and early last year lost of amazing games got released. This month we thought that it would be a good idea to fast forward to November and sneak peek at our 2 favourite games One of them being fifa 22. FIFA 22 is a fun and addictive game that 100% get released on a yearly bases with always new and better gaming experiences. It's a football based game with many game modes.

The main game modes are online (Ultimate Team) and offline (Career mode). Career mode is the same but instead of playing with real people you play against is an all knowing computer. This game is a 3+ rating and always gets published for computer , PlayStation 4 and 5 , Xbox one (all generations) and Nintendo switch. I'd highly recommend this game for any football fans as it's very addictive, fun and as always a game expected for the year.

FATHERS DAY

He always has the controller, he always tells you what to do, he always eat all of the food, basically he controls you, but yes this is your father and you still truly love him. Father's Day is a celebration of fathers, honouring fatherhood, and the role fathers play in society. This day was first proposed in 1909 to complement Mother's Day celebrations.

On this day children acknowledge and appreciate their fathers and father figures, who play an important role in their lives, be it emotionally, mentally or even financially. On this day children understand the importance of the role of a father in one's life. This day helps recognises the contribution of fathers to their own families and society at large. Children buy or make presents for their father or father-like figure, write and draw cards, spend the day engaging in activities that can be enjoyed with one's father, be it hiking, fishing or just sitting around watching some television. In most places most kids have a closer bond with their mothers, so this day definitely helps find a closer relation with their dad.

History

The day was founded in USA, where it is celebrated on the third Sunday of June, at the Spokane, Washington YMCA in 1910 by Sonora Smart Dodd. That year, Father's Day was celebrated on June 19, 1910. Sonora heard about how Anna Jarvis had founded Mother's Day in honour of her mother and told the pastor of her Church that there should be something similar to celebrate fathers too. Sonora's father was Civil War veteran William Jackson Smart, a single parent from Arkansas who raised six children. Sonora was hoping that Father's Day celebrations would be held on June 5, which was her father's birthday, but the Church's time constraints ended up pushing this day and the celebration was deferred to the third Sunday of June.

Not everyone celebrates Father's Day the same day. For example in Spain it is always celebrated March 19 but in other places such as USA, UK, Mexico, India, Philippines... it changes every year and this year it is on June 20th. Father's Day is celebrated around 84 different countries.

Here are 3 countries with weird celebrations for Father's Day.

1. Germany

"No women allowed" is often a theme of Father's Day in Germany.

German fathers traditionally celebrate their day by ditching their wife and children. Groups of fathers often take hikes up to mountains or walks in the park, often while pulling wagons filled with alcoholic beverages behind them.

Biking is also a popular activity among groups of fathers.

2. Mexico

Who's up for a little exercise? Each Father's Day in Mexico City, a 21K (or 13-mile) run takes place for fathers. Of course, afterward is typically a big feast with yummy desserts to honour fathers everywhere. Wow, who would have thought running so much instead of resting.

3. South Africa

Children often spend the day fishing in hopes of catching dinner for their fathers. Of course, gifts and cards can still be exchanged and picnics are often held, as well. They also buy alcoholic beverages for their dads.

We did a survey throughout secondary students and we found out that most people do celebrate Father's Day although some spend the whole day with them whilst others only spend half or less of the day with them. Something that all of the students do is cook or go out with their dads. The last question we asked had a variety of answers, the question was if they give gifts to their fathers. Most of the said they do and they do it handmade whilst the others don't give them anything or just buy them something.

Saint Patrick's Day

We have finally reached the month of March, and everybody is excited for St Patrick's day! However, this year will be a little different.

This holiday provides an excuse for adults to have a very good time at bars and restaurants, celebrating in honor of St Patrick's death. This is reflected normally on every main street, on 17 March.

Originally, this feast was celebrated due to St Patrick's imposition of Christianity, this event was a religious tradition before transitioning into a modern day event.

Patrick's revelers thought that by wearing green , they would be safe from the leprechauns (fairy creatures who would pinch anyone they could see). People began pinching those who didn't wear green as a reminder that leprechauns.

Nowadays, those that do not wear green, will be punished in many ways , so try and avoid them and wear green !

The most cruel but common way to punish someone for breaking the rules is by through beer on top of someone's head , is the most popular punishment nowadays.

Over 15 countries celebrate this great feast, you should to!

BACK TO SQUARE 1

There was a certain event in March last year that caused the entire world to change into what it is today. This month last year was the COVID-19 outbreak and the main event of that time, the lockdown. After COVID began to uncontrollably spread the government across the world decided to have a worldwide lockdown to help both the saturated hospitals and the scared citizens.

The early stages

The lockdown started early March of 2020, 14th of March to be exact. and it was certainly not a good time for anyone. You could not leave the house unless you worked at a hospital. Schools, restaurants and many other facilities closed. It was an overwhelming amount of events in such little time. At the start of lockdown people spent their time playing video games, sport at home, and work for the sanitary workers.

From that moment, the world had a big change for the worse. The first month was spent in complete confinement, but as time passed schools developed into online schools through apps like zoom. Students spent their mornings in online class and then whatever they wanted. It was in April that the situation got a change. Children under the age of 14 could go outside in a 1 kilometer radius for 1 hour a day, wearing a face mask and at 10pm everyone must be at their house.

Progress was made

As time passed, in what seemed like forever the situation progressed for the better again, at the start of summer we were freed from complete confinement but the world will never be the same. Since the start we have had to wear face masks, we lost our major safety in the streets, we have to be far more careful now. But summer was spent being able to go with friends around town, as long as you weren't too many and you all had masks.

Summer was spent in a controlled way, with families being able to see each other again, friends reuniting after not seeing each other for various months. But not everything was good in summer, as on August 28th 2020, popular actor Chadwick Boseman passed away from cancer. As summer passed it was seen that there was a spike in cases again, most likely due to parties of big amounts with no masks taking place.

Re-opening of schools

September starts as the government allows schools to open under some conditions. Schools of a big amount of students must separate the groups by days, they must all wear mask, they must take the children's temperature everyday and they must have disinfecting gel and have every child apply it. There must also be social distancing as to prevent Covid cases.

Classroom rules also changed a bit, the tables are separated for distancing, and they are in groups or better called 'bubbles'. Secondary must also prevent contact with primary as to lessen the cases, the classes mustn't interact too much outside of patios. Everyone mustn't talk to each other without the masks and they should prevent physical contact.

A change for the better

After summer and the re-opening of schools Covid cases skyrocketed and many schools immediately closed down again, the government took it a step further after that. There was a limit of 6 people together in the streets, and you could only be outside until 22:00. With this, cases slowed down again but the opening of schools greatly affected the general world.

As family members of students got Covid entire schools were infected in weeks. After the new law of limited people it still increased little by little, though the Spain government didn't do anything at the moment. We continued like this for much of the latter half of 2020, however, behind the scenes scientists worked hard in developing a Covid vaccine. And early December comes, and it's announced, the first dose of the COVID vaccine was complete, though you weren't entirely immunised.

The sanitary workers received the first dose of the vaccine and the hospital improved slightly thanks to this. The first vaccine was given to those doctors in direct contact with Covid. It was handed out and injected and the hospital workers finally started to feel like the end was closing in. As the New Year's Eve arrives cases rose again, but came December 31st, and we peacefully watched and heard as the 12 bells rang, and it was January 1st, 2021.

The beginning of the end

As 2020 ended and 2021 rose to light, the situation was improved massively across the world. Some countries in quarantine, some with strict rules, but it was the start, of a new year. Time quickly passed through January, winter break ended and schools started the second term. As the days passed, some were worried, some had hope, as the second dose of the Covid vaccine was created. With both this one and the first one, you were completely immunized from this deadly virus.

The sanitary workers, again received this dose first, and with this all their worries vanished as they were now invulnerable when against Covid. This was however only the doctors in physical contact with Covid, as they were the ones treating the sick. And what happens after that you ask? After this, January quickly comes to an end as February rises with good and bad news altogether.

With early February just starting, Carnival in Spain was cancelled as to the outgoing pandemic, and the sick people are slowly increasing again. However hospitals around the world are working together to create worldwide vaccines for everyone. But for now, the first dose of the vaccine has been given to the others sanitary workers at hospitals including Spain and that is everything that has happened as of right now.

Bistro Shabby Chic

Bistro shabby chic, where do I start?

First of all, the staff are amazing and they make you feel so welcome. When I was there they made me feel as if I had been there multiple times. They're always there if you are feeling thirsty and making sure your food is just how you expected it, you never fail to laugh or smile. When I went, I ordered a juicy, meaty steak that came to me cooked just how I like it: red and juicy. It was also served with crispy soft chips that were just unexplainable. Finally, the dessert I got was a selection of mini sized desserts. They were delicious! They tasted just how I would imagine restaurant is set out beautifully two warm cozy relaxing floors with a scent of mouthwatering flying past, the restaurant is immaculately clean is very well presented with simple but beautiful decorations.

Next I move onto the food the food is the most delicious belly filling food ever, the kitchen chef is like a wizard or fairy godmother/father. They make food that could make your dream come true on a plate the food is that good it even makes you want to get a dessert and the desserts are like heaven on a plate fresh and sweet. I personally recommend this place as I know for a fact you will walk into that place more than once. Even due to COVID they are selling takeout and free coffee and tostado from 9-11pm so if I was you I would make sure you don't miss out!

TED

Wapi

Wapi is a gelato lab, which means it prepares classical Italian ice-cream in different manners, in the Altea square. The staff were very polite with me and my sister when we go. I usually order pancakes or a crepe with gelato or I just get gelato by itself. The pancakes are the fluffiest American style pancakes and the crepes are so perfect, it is undescrivable. What can I say, the gelato is so tasty and when you ask for the flavour of gelato you want it tastes just as you would imagine! Fresh and the actual flavour the gelato is supposed to have. The gelato lab has an outdoor and indoor seating with a perfect view of the square! The price of the ice cream and others are affordably delicious and this is the place I always want to return to when I want pancakes or gelato. I would highly recommend this gelato place is you want to go for an ice cream or crepe .

Watch out, SPRING is comming!

You can smell it in the air, you can feel it on your skin, the plants are waking up and that means that Spring is almost here.

Spring is characterised for its beautiful flowers, sunshine and nature. It is the best time to visit Spain and England according to google , but why ? It might be for its warm weather, despite the bugs , spring makes you and nature feel alive with the bright colours of the environment. However, if spring is such a marvellous season what do we do to celebrate it ?

It starts in March and finishes in June , in between ,many important celebrations are taking place through every country. In Thailand we can go to the Sonkran Water festival where older people, adults and children throw water and take part in a street dancing tradition. In the USA we can find the White House Easter egg roll which is a fun tradition for all ages and families.

In India the famous Holi, this is one of the most colourful festivals in the world and everyone ends full of colour powder and enjoy . Lastly in Spain we have the Semana Santa with the April fair and a week of dancing for the Andalucian cities and more.

Which party do you celebrate for the Start of Spring?
